Atop Rumford Whitecap

The Mahoosuc Land Trust is attempting to raise funds to purchase the summit of Rumford Whitecap, popular with hikers, other outdoor recreationists, and generations of blueberry pickers. (Photographer unknown)

Effort to protect popular hiking and berrying peak shifts gears to meet year-end deadline

By ALISON ALOISIO

The good news for those working to preserve the summit of Rumford Whitecap Mountain is that the Land for Maine's Future Board has granted $243,000 toward its purchase.

The bad news is that the Mahoosuc Land Trust — the organization heading up the project — had requested $434,000.

That leaves MLT's Whitecap Committee with an uphill climb to raise another $274,000 to buy the 761-acre parcel. And the funds must be raised by the end of this year, or the land may be sold for development.

But, say committee members Bob and Lida Iles of Andover, Whitecap is worth the effort.

The rock-topped summit has long been a favorite of hikers, hunters, skiers, snowmobilers, berry pickers and families out for a picnic.

It's among four telemark ski spots in Maine recommended by an Appalachian Mountain Club-published book entitled "Backcountry Skiing Adventures." The other locations include Acadia, Baxter State Park and Camden Hills.

"Whitecap is just a special place," said

Lida.

The mountain abuts Rumford's Black Mountain Ski Area, and affords views of the White Mountains.

A year and a half ago, a sign-in box was placed at the beginning of the Whitecap hiking trail. Since then, about 1,000 people have signed in on their way up the mountain.

The recreationists come from such places as England, France, Georgia, California, Alaska and Hawaii, as well as a total of 42 towns in Maine, Bob said.

Area schools, including the Andover Elementary School, also take annual hikes up the mountain.

Revolutionary War veteran's grave among those threatened by Androscoggin erosion

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Androscoggin River is continuing to eat its way toward the graves in Bethel's Riverside Cemetery.

Last year the river eroded its bank to within 17 feet of the nearest grave.

This spring, the same grave is less than eight feet from the bank.

A few feet down from that spot, the bank is within 25 feet of the grave of Revolutionary War soldier Eli Twitchell.

The Riverside Cemetery Association has applied for a federal disaster relief grant to help fix the bank to prevent more erosion.

Peter Marcinuk, district conservationist for the Natural Resources Conservation Service, is advising the association on the grant process.

The grant money, if approved, would come through the Emergency Watershed Protection Fund.

Marcinuk said he hopes the association will hear back by mid-June on whether it will receive any money.

He estimates $150,000 would be needed to shape the bank and place stones to stop the erosion.

The grant would require a 25 percent local match, in either money or in-kind services.

MDOT program may help Greenwood rebuild road to Mt. Abram ski lodge

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Greenwood officials learned last week that the state might be willing to help the town repair and upgrade at least part of the unpaved section of Howe Hill Road.

The are no guarantees at this point, but Dale Doughty, assistant director of the Maine Department of Transportation's Bureau of Planning, said that because there is a Mt. Abram ski lodge on the road, funding could be available through MDOT's new Ski Area and Industrial Park (a.k.a. Roads to Jobs) Program.

Howe Hill Road begins in Locke Mills village and is paved from there until its juncture with Cemetery Road — a distance of approximately 1.75 miles.

From there the road continues, unpaved, for another mile.

That unpaved stretch of road, especially the lower portion, has long been a mud run in the spring. In fact, for several weeks this spring, the road was so bad that it was closed to all but resident traffic.

In recognition of this, at Town Meeting in March

Town officials have some questions about the proposed increase in SAD44 levies

By ALISON ALOISIO

Weighing in on the proposed SAD44 budget, area municipal officials are raising questions about the local use of state aid money, the superintendent's salary, and the method for charging tuition-paying towns.

The district's proposed budget for FY'07 is $9.9 million. That budget, along with a proposed Adult Education budget of $97,850 will go to voters in a June 13 referendum.

If passed, the combined budgets will increase SAD44's local share (what district towns are assessed for school costs) by just over 4 percent.

But that's on average. The actual increase in individual towns will vary (due to fluctuations in relative valuations).

Woodstock faces hike of nearly 12.5 percent.

For example, while Andover will be looking at an increase of only .88 percent, Woodstock will be facing an increase of nearly 12.5 percent.

Woodstock selectmen expressed their concerns about the increases at their regular meeting last week.

They were joined by former selectman Steve Bies, a consistent critic of school budget increases.

He noted that SAD44 will receive $400,000 more in state aid than it did last year, as a result of changes in the law meant to increase the state's share of local budgets.

The reforms were made in response to calls for tax relief. But, Bies said, "[district officials] haven't done a thing to decrease taxes. They may

HERE'S TO RESPONSIBLE GROWTH

To the Editor:

I want to thank Gwynne E. Morgan for providing me with an opportunity to take a public stand on the issue of growth in the Bethel area.

My name is Scott Stone. My family has made its home in the foothills of western Maine for well over 200 years. I grew up in South Paris and graduated from Gould Academy in 1979. After spending a few college years in New Hampshire, my wife and I chose to settle in this area because we also love the beauty of the mountains, lakes and rivers. We have raised our two boys to also enjoy the beauty of the land. We spend lots of time hiking, skiing and fishing in the Androscoggin, as well as the many secret spots we have discovered over the years. This year my oldest son will also graduate from Gould Academy. My youngest son has two years to go. Needless to say we have a vested interest in preserving the precious spaces that we enjoy on a daily basis.

Like Ms. Morgan, I firmly believe that we must have a responsible growth plan. To allow developers to willy nilly create subdivision upon subdivision without a plan is a recipe for disaster.

I recently attended a seminar at the Bethel Inn that was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce titled "Sustaining Livable Communities while Encouraging Responsible Development." The title of the program was perfect. It describes to a tee the issue we are currently facing. On the one hand we all want to see the ridge line of each and every mountain top (without the trophy home of some Boston-based executive), yet we know that more people are going to wish to come here to enjoy all of the things about our area that we love. How do we allow those people to experience the opportunity to call this place home without destroying the very thing that makes it so special in the first place? How do we make sure that the ridge tops, river bottoms and beach fronts are available to all of us to enjoy and not just the privileged few? How do we protect the rights of landowners to maximize their opportunities for prosperity, without compromising the chance for each of us to fish along the river or hike along a mountain ridge? These are not simple questions. However, these are the questions that were raised in the meeting only two weeks ago. These are the questions we must answer. I am planning on participating fully in the discussions and debates that get us to the ideal marriage of these concerns.

I am the owner of a construction company that has enjoyed a rich heritage of providing quality homes for the people of Maine for the past 47 years. Personally, I have only been involved over the last ten years. I have made it my mission to continue the tradition of customer care while moving in the direction of custom building homes for people of all walks of life. The twenty-four men, women and their families that make this company work all take a tremendous amount of pride in giving to the community that sustains us. Each of us gives in our own way. Some of us coach youth sports. Many are involved in their churches. As a company we have donated several thousand dollars already to sponsor musical events, art festivals, and the local football team to name a few. Each of these families relies on the good fortunes of our company to provide a financial basis for their family to enjoy living where their forefathers have lived for many years. We take pride in the fact that we are craftsmen in an era when craftsmanship is no longer a prerequisite to calling yourself a builder. We take pride in the way we interact with our neighbors, friends and family.

Finally, I hope that some day my children will call this place home. I am confident in our chances to figure this out, providing we don't lull ourselves to sleep by letting a few "enlightened wealthy individuals" to resolve it for us. Let's simply rely on our Maine tradition of fairness, honesty, respect for our neighbors and common sense to arrive at a solution we can live with. Let us all agree to preserve the ridge tops, hiking trails and river banks for all to enjoy who want to call this place home. I am sure that will be important to my children.

My company, by the way, is Schiavi Home Builders. I hope you all take the opportunity to stop by and visit us at our location on 163 Mayville Road. I am confident you will be pleasantly surprised at the level of quality name brand features throughout our homes, and based on most people's misconceptions you will be genuinely shocked by the high level of craftsmanship. We welcome you to attend an open house on June 15, from 4 until 7 p.m. We look forward to meeting and working with all of our friends and neighbors.

Here's to responsible development.

AN ALTERNATIVE VIEW OF REGULATION

To the Editor:

In regard to last week's letter to the editor by Gwynne Morgan in which she promotes the need for zoning and additional land-use regulations, I would like to offer the following alternative point of view.

Ms. Morgan claims that more restrictions are needed to prevent the further development in the Mayville area of such properties as Schiavi Homes and the franchises in that area. If more ordinances were imposed on us or if zoning were to become law, then common sense would dictate that the area designated for commercial development would certainly include the Route 2/26 corridor between Rite Aid and Sunday River. Therefore, zoning would do nothing to prevent development in what is a naturally occurring development zone.

Bethel already has very restrictive land-use and sign ordinances, which were imposed on us in the late 1980s early 1990s. These ordinances have already done much to stifle economic growth, opportunity, and creativity and force many young people to leave the area in search of jobs with a promising future. One need only read The Bethel Citizen from the 1940s and 1950s to learn how much more robust and prosperous the local economy was before the onslaught of restrictions.

Like Morgan, I too am an outsider, coming to Bethel from the Boston area in 1975. I quickly figured out that Bethel was indeed a town that as Morgan states was "doing it right." Two-hundred years of minimal restrictions and individual creativity had allowed Bethel to grow and develop into the town that both she and I have come to love. However, in her efforts and others like her to "preserve" the town, they are actually changing it and making it more like the place they chose to leave.

Unlike Morgan, I feel that while the buildings and landscapes in the Bethel are beautiful, the true beauty of the Bethel area lies in its people — the natives who welcome outsiders to their community so long as they don't make it like the place they left behind.

I am very happy living in the Bethel area and see no need to change it by imposing more rules and regulations on ourselves. If I wasn't happy here, I would go back to where I came from. Perhaps those that feel the need to change Bethel should consider doing the same.

BYWAY: NO COMPELLING NEED

To the Editor:

Toni Seger's crusade to establish a scenic byway is admirable for the passion and dedication she has for her project, but those two things do not necessarily make it a beneficial endeavor for all who may be affected.

A major stumbling block is her failure to document much support from the real stakeholders in this project.

Those stakeholders aren't the craftsmen, artists and other retailers that she predicts will reap economic benefit from this, but rather the property owners large and small who may be impacted by a federally designated scenic byway. The assurances of Toni and other supporters of the byway that this designation will be a benign and federal entanglement free arrangement are in no way guarantees.

Toni claims that the control and direction of the byway will be completely in local hands. And in this particular instance subject to the agreement of local committees in 11 towns stretched along Route 113 and Route 2 from Standish to Newry. No small feat in itself.

I agree with the opinion voiced by several at the informational meeting she held at the Gould science building, that any time federal money is involved federal strings will be attached. Toni's casual dismissal of this concern did not leave me, and I believe other participants, convinced. It's possible that her own passion for this project may color her objectivity.

Even a casual observer of the American political scene cannot turn a blind eye or ear to the ever-expanding role of government in an increasing number of aspects of daily life. Legislation through bureaucratic fiat is commonplace. This proposal has the potential to turn into the regulatory nightmare downstream. It may start out as Toni believes and then turn into a much more restrictive and cumbersome burden for towns and landowners. Is the possibility of another layer of regulation in the best interest of the true stakeholder?

I ask two questions. How wide does a scenic byway corridor become in the future? And why should a landowner voluntarily give up any control of their property to a third party?

Toni's statement that "Evans Notch is the heart and soul of this byway" deserves close consideration. There is no argument that Evans Notch is a scenic, environmentally sensitive, and historic area. Many feel that its current multi-use designation is just about perfect, and needs no additional tweaking. The Forest Service asked for and received a tremendous amount of input from varied parties before deciding on Evans Notch as a multi-use area. It took years.

There is also no argument that it is well protected as part of the White Mountain National Forest. It is under no threat now or in the future of development. The federal government does a more than adequate job promoting its national forest lands and Evens Notch is no exception.

I am in agreement with the Cressys that the real threat to Evens Notch may be the designation as part of a scenic byway. As Ron Savage pointed out at the informational meeting that there are criteria that roadways have to meet to become part of a scenic byway. Toni did not refute that point.

This may be a case where the cure is worse than the disease, the improvements needed to bring the existing Evans Notch roadway up to the standard may result in a degradation of the scenic beauty that Toni so wants to promote.

Toni's enthusiastic statement that this to her was a "no brainer" possibly should be a little more reflected upon before it moves forward.

Hopefully Bethel's selectmen, before writing a letter of recommendation for this proposed byway gather much more input from the stakeholders.

Toni's informational meeting was sparsely attended, and I don't believe that she sold the few people in attendance on the compelling need for a federally designated scenic byway. Is it possible that the ever increasing influx of tourists and second-home buyers is growing at a fast enough pace without any additional encouragement?

Toni speaks to the economic value that a federally designated scenic byway will bring. She speaks glowingly of cultural tourism and eco-tourism. I believe that many people in this state struggle with the concept that tourism is the cure-all to our economic ills. That is not to say that its worth is not substantial, but I'll be Frank and you can be Ernest. The majorities of the jobs created by a tourism-based economy are low paying, seasonal and provide very limited benefits. Thankfully, those people may be able to find some affordable housing in a well-designed mobile home park, as another group of visionaries alluded to in a previous edition of The Citizen.

People of a conservation mindset might question the benefits of ecological impact of encouraging increased travel by automobile. They might say that eco-tourism and an additional 1,000 cars on the road is a contradiction of purpose. Possibly the additional traffic on some portions of this proposed byway will take away from its slower rural character and scenic appeal. That point of view received little attention at the meeting.

Honestly, I've been a little confused by Toni's barrage of letters in the newspapers.

In one breath she says that the byway will really put the area on the map and then says that even if the byway generates a 1,000 extra cars it would only be an extra five cars a day over a two-hundred-day season. So which is it, tremendous economic boost to the region or a barely noticeable influx of off-season visitors? I question the need for a byway and all of the ensuing committees, appointments and guideline creation. I don't believe there is any groundswell from the real stakeholders calling for a byway. I, like many, believe that most property owners are perfectly capable of making decisions about what their property does or does not become without the input of third parties.

In closing, I thought that Mrs. Cressy's reasonable suggestion that an alternate route be considered, steering through Lovell, Stoneham, Albany and then on through Bethel to its final destination was met by Toni with less than her usual abundant enthusiasm. Toni's comments in The Citizen article insisting that the byway pass through Evans Notch leads me to believe that she may have other strong convictions about the design and direction of the byway that are yet to be revealed.

Last week's Bethel Citizen heralded that "Byway leader won't be detoured." Well folks maybe she should be.

The Whitecap property was among 600,000 acres of land sold several years ago by the Meadwestvaco paper company to Bayroot LLC.

Bayroot's management partner, Wagner Forest Management Ltd., has agreed to sell it to the Land Trust if the funding can be obtained by the end of this year.

The MLT would like to purchase only the summit land, which totals 231 acres. But Wagner has stipulated the entire 761-acre parcel must be bought as a unit.

The committee has obtained "packs" of letters of support for the purchase, said Lida, including several from area boards of selectmen.

The total cost of the project is $650,000. In addition to the purchase price of $560,000, $58,000 must be raised for trail and site maintenance and another $32,000 for closing costs and related expenses.

MLT has so far raised about $125,000 (in addition to the LFMF grant).

"We're agreeing to protect this land forever, and it costs money to do that," Lida said.

"We'll be working on fund-raising through personal contacts and grant requests," said Bob.

Region 9 budget approved

MEXICO—The $1.2 million secondary vocational program budget for Region 9, of which SAD44 is a member, was approved last week at a meeting attended by about 30 people. The budget represents an increase of about 5 percent. Also approved was $30,000 for a capital reserve account, funded from the undesignated balance, to be used for building repairs and renovations.

Voter rules for primaries

REGION—Voters who may consider themselves “independents” are reminded that in order to vote in the June 13 primary election, they must, according to state law, register with a political party. There are currently three qualified parties: Democratic, Republican and Green Independent. Voters not registered with one of the three are listed as “unenrolled.” Such voters may register with one of the parties at the polls on the day of the primary and then vote for primary candidates of that party. Once a voter has enrolled in a party, he/she must remain in that party for three months before withdrawing or changing enrollment. Voters currently enrolled in a party who wish to change parties before voting in the primary must apply to do so by tomorrow (Friday). There is then a 15-day waiting period during which the voter cannot vote in a primary, caucus or convention.

Greenwood cleanup

GREENWOOD—The Recreation Committee will be holding a Spring Cleanup at Dunham Park, Howe Hill Road on Saturday, June 3, starting at 8 a.m. Refreshments will be provided. Rain date is scheduled for Saturday, June 10. For more information please contact Kelly Blaszcak at 875-3283.

Fishing festival next week

BETHEL—The Bethel Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Trout Unlimited will host a free family fishing festival on Saturday, June 3. The festival will be held along the banks of the Androscoggin River at the BIG Adventure Center and Bethel Outdoor Adventures from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Free casting workshops are set for the morning. Maine's Hooked on Fishing-Not on Drugs Program will supply rods and reels for use at the festival. A “Kids Catch” to practice newly learned, casting skills is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Big Adventure Covered Bridge Pond. The event will help to teach the “catch and release” ethic, promoted to preserving Maine's fishing resource. In the afternoon, kids will learn how to tie flies. Materials will be provided by TU and will include alpaca fibers. The breeders from Sunday River Alpacas will show their yearling alpacas at the event. Exhibitors include the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife with a mobile unit information booth, the Hooked on Fishing-Not on Drugs Program; and the Maine Conservation School. Families are welcome to bring a pack lunch. An outdoor barbecue and cold drinks will be available at the festival. All parents and kids registering for the event will be eligible for prizes from local outfitters and businesses. The weekend of June 3 and 4 is a free fishing weekend in Maine. Resident and Non-resident freshwater fishing licenses are waived each day. ## Road

Greenwood voters agreed to spend $80,000 to have 4,000 feet of the road (as far as the intersection with Cross Road) dug and rebuilt (but not paved see below).

Road usage increasing
The poor condition of Howe Hill Road has taken on increasing importance in recent years, as residential development has mushroomed in the area accessed by the road.

Town officials worry that in the event of an emergency, road conditions could slow down, possibly even prevent, responders from reaching those in need of help.

In addition, in the event of a skiing accident at Mt. Abram, road conditions could also hamper an ambulance attempting to reach the ski area's Westside Lodge, which is located approximately one-fifth of a mile beyond the end of the paving.

And even without accidents, bad roads could still make it difficult for Mt. Abram to operate the lodge profitably.

'Roads to Jobs'
But that last problem could be a major plus when it comes to attracting state funding.

Doughty told town officials that the Roads to Jobs Program takes into account both economic viability and safety issues when calculating where to allocate funds.

The program is competitive, Doughty said, but if the town scored high enough in a cost-benefit analysis of the Howe Hill project, MDOT could match town funding 50/50.

The match would apply only to the stretch of road between the end of the current paved section and the entrance to Mt. Abram's Westside parking lot.

The town's share could include a contribution from the business entity that would benefit from the work.

In the end, Doughty said, the program initially required that the business involved contribute half of a town's share, but that requirement was later dropped.

Mt. Abram owner Josh Burns attended last week's meeting of Doughty and the selectmen, but Greenwood Town Manager Kim Sparks said Tuesday that there has been no discussion so far regarding a possible contribution from the ski area toward the road work.

(A call Tuesday to Burns was not returned by press time Wednesday afternoon.)

Rest of the road
The 1,000 feet of road leading to the ski lodge represents only about a quarter of the length of road the town plans to work on this summer.

Doughty said that no Roads to Jobs funds would be available for the remainder of the road, but in light of the increased development in the area, the town might be able to tap other MDOT programs, especially those targeting safety issues.

The Town Office is currently preparing an application packet for the Roads to Jobs funds, Sparks said.

This year's work on Howe Hill is expected to start as soon as school is out, she said.

Pave next year?

Even with the possible addition of some state funds, the $80,000 approved by voters at Town Meeting would not be enough to have the road paved — that would take an estimated $70,000 more.

Town officials, however, have discussed asking voters at next year's meeting to appropriate the funds for paving.

Selectman Wayne Hakala said that even if the paving funds were available this year, it would still be advisable to let the rebuilt road settle for a winter before paving it.

Erosion

Another option that has been considered is relocating the graves that are in danger of being washed away.

But, said Marcinuk, he was told by the Maine Department of Transportation that it will cost approximately $16,000 to move each grave.

"It doesn't appear to be a great option," said Marcinuk.

It is not a common occurrence for cemeteries to be seriously threatened by a river, Marcinuk said.

SAD44

have used the money to improve services, but that wasn't the point."

Selectman Judy Bennett agreed. "It should have helped taxes. Instead, we got a huge increase."

Selectman Rick Young blamed high administrative costs for some of the increase.

He particularly mentioned the superintendent's salary, which he said was higher than that of the superintendent in neighboring SAD17, a larger district. (See sidebar.)

Town Manager Vern Maxfield presented statistics on Woodstock's school costs in recent years. Since 1993, he said, the town's costs have grown an average of $30,000 a year, or about 5 percent.

(Maxfield also provided numbers showing the county tax has risen an average of 6 percent annually in that time. The county cost, however, is a much smaller portion of the total tax assessment.)

This year, Woodstock's education cost breaks down to $2,267 a day, he said.

Bies, speculating the budget for next year will pass, wondered if there was any "initiative" town leaders could take in the future to influence the School Board.

Maxfield suggested attending School Board Finance

Committee meetings, which take place early in each year's budget cycle. Members and administrators begin to build the budget at that time.

School Board hearing

Bies also attended Monday's SAD44 public hearing on the budget, and reiterated his views.

He added that residents should base their referendum vote on the overall district-wide increase in local share, rather than just one town.

Superintendent Dave Murphy said the additional $400,000 expected in state aid still falls short of the state's percentage share established by a formula 20 years ago. Maine plans to ramp up to its full share over the next several years.

The $400,000 increase this year will be largely eaten up by the district's fixed cost increases, such as salaries and fuel, he said.

Murphy said the board held the budget to a 0 percent increase last year, putting off capital improvement projects and cutting some staff positions.

The board has added or restored several positions for next year, as well as funds for some capital improvements.

Murphy also said that because of last year's tighter budgeting, there is less money than usual available to carry over to reduce the FY'07 budget.

The proposed budget was unanimously approved by the directors present at the May 8 School Board meeting, according to Murphy.

He also noted that last year, SAD44, together with one other district in the state, successfully lobbied to be excluded from a state funding formula change that would have shifted some of the local burden from Newry to other district towns.

Cole: Up tuition

Bethel Town Manager Scott Cole also attended Monday's hearing.

He suggested that local officials promote legislation to change the way non-district towns are charged for their tuition students.

SAD44 currently has tuition students enrolled from Gilead, Upton and Hanover, as well as Mason, Milton and Albany townships.

The tuition rate, Cole said, should be "the equivalent of being a member [of SAD44]."

Under the current system, "non-members are rewarded for staying non-members," Cole said.

Kelly Scotti of Andover, who served on the School Board as chairman for many years, also attended the hearing.

She praised the board for what she said were "hard decisions. Thank you for making them on behalf of our children."

How superintendent's salary stacks up

By ALISON ALOISIO

SAD44 Superintendent Dave Murphy is earning $97,729 this year. He has 29 total years of experience in education, and has been superintendent for four years. Student enrollment in SAD44 is about 1,080.

A comparison with neighboring districts (Information provided by the Maine School Management Association and Dept. of Education website):

SAD17 (Norway) superintendent: Salary $100,000; 34 years in education, 11 years in current position; district student enrollment about 3,650.

SAD21 (Dixfield): Salary $85,000; 28 years in education, three in current position; student enrollment about 860.

SAD43 (Rumford): Salary $86,000; 27 years in education, three in current position; student enrollment about 1,640.

SAD72 (Fryeburg): Salary $88,500; 20 years in education, one in current position; student enrollment about 960.

"Enviably position"
Becky Cummings of Bethel, the chairman of the SAD44 School Board, said Tuesday that Murphy has worked for SAD44 for a total of 22 years, a fact that gives him added value in serving as superintendent.

"This puts our district in a unique and enviable position," said Cummings. "I would bet that there are very few superintendents in the state who know our kids and our families as well as David does."

GREENLEAF STATION—The Bethel ambulance building is now known as "Greenleaf Station," following a ceremony last Thursday. The new name honors the family that has served the town for decades. Dr. Sherman Greenleaf provided ambulance service beginning in the 1920s, and for many years the ambulance doubled as a funeral car. After the town took over the ambulance service in the 1970s, the Greenleafs continued to provide volunteers. Thursday's ceremony included comments offered by Scott Cole, town manager, and Stan Howe, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and executive director of the Bethel Historical Society. About 30 people attended the event, and some offered impromptu accounts of how they or their families were helped by the Greenleafs over the years. Pictured here with the proclamation renaming the building are, from left: John Greenleaf, Arlene Brown, Arlene Greenleaf and Cole. A new sign denoting "Bethel Rescue — Greenleaf Station" will be placed on the station.

sales centers — Bethel and Oxford — operate with a rule that each office has a 50-mile radius of responsibility. Schiavi is a full-service general contractor with established, long-term links to its contractors and suppliers that cover the full home building cycle. Factory construction is done in Canada with house sections shipped on specially designed air-cushioned vehicles. Richard emphasized that their key to success in completing 100 to 110 homes a year has two parts — the house is being built in Canada at the same time the excavation and foundation work is going on in Maine. When the foundation is ready the major part of the house is already built.

Planned date for the Bethel Schiavi Center's open house is June 15. Expect to see much landscaping activity in the next two weeks.

The Schiavi people tossed a compliment to their Mayville neighbors over the well-kept appearance of all the properties near the new sales center — tidy, well-trimmed lawns and gardens are very nice to see said Richard.

Friday I watched Bill Dunton and Tom Rock get ready to install two very large water pumps in the pump shed of BIG Adventure's water slide. Tom Rock, who was helping Bill, said that his real home is the Snowflake Factory at Sunday River Ski Resort. At the Snowflake Factory, Rock said his pumps push out 8,000 gallons of water a minute. Then he told me that the two pumps for the water slide handle more than half that volume — one pumps 3,500 and the other pumps 1,500 gallons a minute — operating the water slide requires 5,000 gallons a minute to keep users happy. Bill Dunton, BIG's owner, told me that the pumps had needed reconditioning because golf balls from the putting course had bounced into the water and then had gotten sucked into the pumps which in turn had gummed up the pump works.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

It's good to know that there are a few people out there that read this weekly column. Last week I sent in my column but it did not make it into the paper. I received an e-mail from Bob and Judy Bishop, of Yarmouth, to let me know that they were going to be at the GHS meeting on Saturday. They also asked if everything was all right because the column was not in the paper. My brother, Steve McLain, got a call from Lewis and Earlene Clough, of Kennebunkport, to check on things because they noticed that the column was missing, too. One of the people who attended the GHS meeting on Saturday said that they had to look through the paper twice because they could not believe that I had not done my column. He said that he checks the column to "see what Steve McLain did this past week." I appreciate the loyal readers and want to remind them that the column appears on the website for the Bethel Citizen.

Linda Smith called to let me know that she had sited an indigo bunting in the lilac bush behind her house. While we were talking she said that her mother had been visiting this past week and was amazed with the variety of birds at the feeder. Bill and Gale Tout reported that they have seen Baltimore orioles and scarlet tanagers at their house.

Gilead Meeting Notice
There is going to be an informational meeting on Thursday, May 25 (tonight), at the Town Hall at 6:30 p.m. on the National Scenic Byways Program. Toni Seger will be there to answer questions about the project. There are concerns by local residents as to what the impact on the area will be. Hopefully, there will be a good turnout at this meeting. Please check with anyone that might be interested and let them know of the meeting.

There is also a meeting coming up in June with the DOT to discuss what is happening with the road construction on Route 2. There will be more information on that next time.

Planning Board

A Planning Board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on June 1 at the Town Hall. The agenda is posted at the Town Hall, Town Office and Transfer Station. Contact Jack Pucak at 836-2729 for information related to the meeting. Applications for such work may be obtained at the Town Office.

Gilead Historical Society
There was a meeting of the GHS on Saturday, May 20, at the Town Hall. There were 12 members present for the planning meeting. There was a lot accomplished during the couple of hours that we met. Posters will be made up and distributed around the area. The date is Saturday, June 24, and the location is the Gilead Town Hall. There is going to be a "Kids at Heart" parade at 11 a.m. "Kids" of all ages are welcome to join in. BoBo, the clown, will be there to be in the parade and entertain the kids. The parade will be on Depot Street. Participants should check in at the Town Hall by 10:30 a.m. for more details.

There will be a tent set up on the Chapman's lawn for everyone to gather under and visit or listen to music throughout the day. The GHS will be selling baked goods and ice cream sundaes in the Town Hall after the parade. The GHS is looking for donated baked items and anyone interested in helping out should contact Bev (836-2032) or Lin (836-2987). They will also be doing a 50/50 raffle and tickets are available now and right through to June 24. The drawing will be in the afternoon on June 24.

At 2 p.m., Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman will do a "Historical Talk" on Gilead and Hastings. The new publication "Hastings" by Howard and Hugh will be available for sale.

A couple of events that are planned are the Gold Coin Search in the sawdust pile and a Skillet Tossing contest. There will be a little bit for everyone, so keep June 24 open and come to Gilead and help the GHS succeed at their first "Friends and Family Day," and make it an annual event.

Charles McSweeney, owner of Evans Notch Lodge, will be open that weekend and is willing to offer special rates for anyone wanting to come and celebrate with the GHS. Bob and Judy Bishop have already signed up, so call 836-2300 to reserve a spot.

This week's bit of history comes from the first publication of the GHS, "The Smile of Providence" by Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman.

"Right from the start, hiking and mountain climbing was a major attraction in the Gilead area. In most of the old photos of hikers and climbers, the standard clothing seems to be long skirts and wide-brimmed hats for the ladies with the men decked out in coats, ties, picnic baskets and walking sticks."

"Many of the original logging roads soon became hiking trails and were extended to the mountaintops. These climbing and hiking trails were increased greatly when the neighboring 33,000-acre Hastings Village site, about three times the size of Gilead, was sold to the White Mountain National Forest. Now, hiking and camping are major recreational activities of the whole Gilead and Hastings area."

It was great to see a break in the weather last Sunday for Mother's Day. The wind was a little cool, but the sunshine and lack of rain made up for it. I hope everyone had a great day on Mother's Day. The hummingbirds arrived for the weekend as they always do. I had to get my feeders out for Mother's Day to be ready for them.

Both of my sons called to wish me a Happy Mother's Day. Tim from Gorham, N.H., called in the morning, and Chris from St. Cloud, Minn., called later in the afternoon. Chris said that they have had steady rain for over a week now, but he decided to go out for a walk anyway. The rain doesn't bother Tim much either, since it is a great time to go fishing.

Two of my grandchildren, William and Annie Chapman, stopped by and spent the evening, and Benjamin Chapman, of Ellsworth, called in the evening to wish me a Happy Mother's Day. Sidney is too little to care, but I could hear her in the background when I was talking with Tim.

When Hugh and I returned from Hi and Mary Lou Berry's the other day, I noticed that Steve McLain's son and wife, Brad and Adrienne of Newry, had stopped by his house for a visit.

Fernand and Beverley Corriveau took a trip to Essex Junction this past weekend to a logger convention. Then they took the ferry over to Plattsburg, N.Y., to visit Bev's aunt. It was a long, rainy day but they had a great time.

The month of May has been busy for Fernand and Beverley Corriveau with birthday parties for some of their grandchildren: Michael Corriveau on May 3rd, Brianna Glover on May 7th and Calvin Glover on May 11th. Michael is the son of Fred and Sue Corriveau and Brianna and Calvin are the children of Jason and Belinda Glover. They are all from Gilead.

Selectmen's Meeting

I attended the selectmen's meeting on May 10. Others present were selectmen, Fernand Corriveau and Mark Wigley; Beverley Corriveau, administrative assistant, and Marcel Polak, Mahoosuc Land Trust. Marcel did a quick rundown on the property on the Androscoggin River where the boat launch is located. The group is still trying to purchase the land from the paper company, but the asking price is way over the appraisal price. Marcel also reported on an area project that he is working on with Kirk Siegel and Jim List. They are compiling information on the area (13 towns in Maine and New Hampshire) to find out what the land is being used for and how to protect it for future use.

The subject of the property owned by the town on the other side of Bridge Street near the Androscoggin was brought up. It seems that there are still people trying to use the area as a boat launch. The road does not go to a boat launch and is posted that it is for Gilead Fire Department use and unauthorized vehicles will be towed. This may seem harsh to some people, but this is the road to the dry hydrant that the GFD has to have access to in case of a fire. Cars that are parked there become a hindrance to the GFD if they should need to get the big fire trucks down there. In the past, the pipe to the dry hydrant was damaged from putting boats into the river.

Gilead Historical Society
Plans are progressing for the Friends and Family Day on June 24. Howard and Hugh are down to the last few things to do before they complete the booklet on Hastings.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Wood thrushes have been in scarce supply for the last few years, but we have heard some singing over the past week or two, and we're hoping that they're getting together to make more little wood thrushes.

Speaking of hatching little ones, the phoebe is still on the nest, and mourning doves have taken over the abandoned robin's nest outside our bathroom window. We have once again seen a couple of robins on the property, so all is not lost.

We've had some gorgeous rose-breasted grosbeaks at the feeders, resplendent in their black, white, and magenta plumage. Sharon Lyon reported seeing a yellow-rumped warbler (fka myrtle warbler) in her garden. I have been hearing chestnut-sided warblers, especially near swampy areas, and yellow warblers as well. And I'm happy to report that the female hummingbirds have shown up and as usual are being intimidated at the feeder by the males.

Jeanne Boelsma called with the request that we be on the lookout for the Boelsmas' blonde cocker spaniel, "Cookie." Cookie is 14 years old, mostly blind and mostly deaf, and she wandered out of the yard over the weekend and did not return. Because of her infirmities, she gets quite confused and may have completely lost her bearings. If she shows up in your doorway, please call the Boelsmas at 836-3567.

Chris Trefethen wrote the following:

"I am excited to let you know that I will again be participating in the American Lung Association's Trek Across Maine. On June 16-18, I will be joining over 1,600 cyclists to bike 180 miles from Sunday River Ski Resort to Rockland, Maine.

"I would greatly appreciate your help. I have pledged to raise $1,000 to help the American Lung Association in its work to help protect and promote lung health. Your contribution will help bring greater attention to and fight the increasing air pollution in our area; help prevent lung diseases such as asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, lung cancer, and tuberculosis; and help reduce tobacco use, which is responsible for 440,000 deaths in the U.S. each year. By clicking on the provided link, you can go to my personal web page and pledge online. If you'd prefer not to do an online pledge, you can mail a check made out to ALA Maine directly to me at PO Box 667, Bethel, ME 04217."

Sounds like a worthy cause to me. Chris's website is worth visiting, even if you don't choose to give online. I can't give you the "click here" in this column, but the Web address is as follows: <http://www.mrsnv.com/evt/e01/part.jsp?rid=285862&id=691&cct=1163205223&mid=182461>.

Sunday was the first public production of the Senior College Players, held at Gould's McLaughlin Science Center Building. Seven one-act plays were presented to a full house, and they seemed to be very well received. Yours truly appeared in three of the skits and had a blast! The ham in me has been itching to come out, so this was pure fun for me.

Just had a call from Maureen at Sunday River Alpaca with the news that another baby boy was born this morning (Monday) around 6 a.m. Maureen discovered him with his mother, Androscoggin, at about 6:15, and reports that by 6:30 he was on his feet and walking around. She also reports that the first layer of roof has been applied to the store building that is rising on their property, with the expert craftsmanship of George Lozier, assisted by Mo.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

It is all about marauding bears, eagles, hawks, crows and a dam rooster. Reports continue to come in about a bear that has taken over most of the birdfeeders in Hanover.

Irv Robinson described the bear as being huge, taller than a person, as he watched the midnight raid on his new birdfeeders.

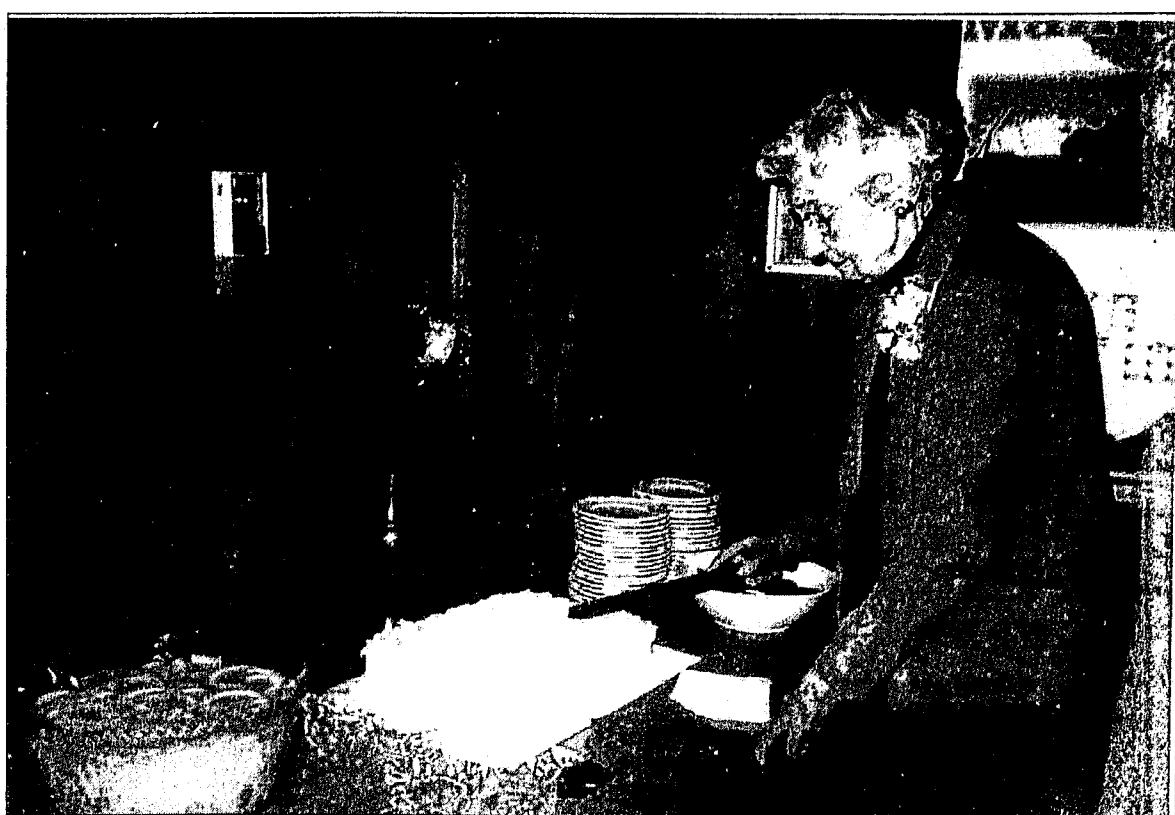

Irv's neighbor, Bob Susbury, has reported numerous bear visits. Across town, Nancy and Elmer Lyons reported bear visits, as has Peter Baker.

Soaring up and down the river valley, hawks have been seen on hunting trips. Some have been successful, as folks have reported smaller birds being picked up and carried off. Eagles are often visible in the area.

A crow family has moved into a nest high atop a pine tree at Baby Brook Lane. The mother crow appears to be setting on eggs while the dad brings food.

Placed high upon the gate at the Howard Pond Dam is a statue of a rooster quietly watching over events at Howard Pond. Listen closely and you might hear a rooster crowing, but it's not the dam rooster; the crowing rooster is at Plumbago Mountain Farm.

Anyway, the lonely dam rooster is reminiscent of a few years ago when a few good old boys got a bit out of hand as live roosters were donated to unsuspecting individuals during midnight deliveries. Those events culminated with Hanover being dubbed "Roosterville" with a professionally prepared sign. The sign also disappeared in a midnight caper.

There will be a household hazardous waste collection on Saturday, June 3, from 9 a.m. until Noon. The Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments is sponsoring the Western Maine Environmental Depot for Hanover and other area towns at the Region 9 School of Technology building in Mexico in the parking area.

Congratulations go to Lacey V. Gammon on the birth of a baby daughter. The baby has been named Brook Lynn. Folks will remember that Lacey worked at Gordie Howe's Store.

Watch your step! The floor at the Hanover Post Office has been stripped and re-waxed. Ben Byam worked last Saturday to accomplish the project.

the winter in Florida.

The K. of P. Lodge will be hosting a Memorial Day service on Monday, May 29. It will start at 9 a.m. and the Rev. Jane Rich will be conducting the ceremony, rain, snow or black flies!

All 14 members and two guests of the East Andover Community Club met on May 8 with Betty Moore, her daughter, Sandy, and sister, Beatrice Schneider. The club voted on who will get the $150 club award at the Alumni Banquet on May 27. The Lila Farrington Memorial Award will be awarded to an Andover-Telstar Senior in the top 10.

Treasurer Violet Swain completed the reading of the East Andover residents in the '40s. Very interesting! The article will go to Norma Farrington for our Historical Society Building. Lovely desserts were served and gifts were exchanged between secret sisters for Mother's Day. Later, Beano was enjoyed. Barbara Meisner will be hostess at the June 12 meeting.

Visitors at the Swains on May 20 were Diane Holt and Lorena Stiles, Dummer, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, East Hartford, Conn.; Emma Giroux and Pamela Sharkey, Rumbout.

Samantha Luce of Johnson City, Tenn., will be having another baby in December. She is the daughter of Sandra Wainwright of East Andover. Samantha and her husband, Joe, have three boys, so Sandra is thinking that it would be nice to have a granddaughter.

Sandy Wainwright and her two sisters, Sharon and Shirley, will be going on a Bahamas cruise for four days May 29 through June 1. They are going on the Royal Caribbean-Majesty of the Seas, to Nassau, Key West and back to Miami. Sharon Thomas is from Taunton, Mass. Shirley Gilman is from South Weymouth, Mass. Sharon is treating the sisters to this cruise. Sandy says that it is great to have such a nice sister! I would say so (I hope that my sisters are reading this!).

Violet Swain, president of the Maine Chapter 7 has announced that the club donated $150 to a Telstar Senior, third in the class, which was Chea Davis of Bethel. Another $150 was given to a senior at Brunswick High School. The club earns money by club auctions and donations.

Have a nice Holiday Weekend.

Clare Piawlock will celebrate her birthday on May 26.

Shirley Lowell attended the Bethel Senior Citizens Club meeting on May 10 at Pleasant Valley Grange.

The Sanford Mainers first game of the season at Sanford will be on July 8.

Thanks to everyone who helped clean up the East Bethel Cemetery on the 20th. We got it done before the showers came.

Rudi Honkala is now on his feet and can get around good.

There will be an East Bethel Church meeting on May 28 at the church at 7 p.m.

The apple blossoms are out as well as those yellow things, dandelions, and the lilacs are almost out.

Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

Newry

This week my neighbor Lee Swan celebrates his birthday.

Many happy returns to you on your special day as you head into a new year.

Karlene Bachelder is recuperating at home after undergoing surgery last week at Stephens Memorial Hospital. Her sister, Wilma Stewart of Unity, brought her home on Friday and is staying with her for a while to help. Karlene will have a home health nurse visiting as well as a physical therapist. Her address is Box 1523, Bear River Road, 04261, for those wishing to write or send greetings. She sounded in great spirits when I talked with her.

The Baltimore orioles were enjoying grape jelly last week. The female showed up a couple of days after the male left. Now many warblers are making appearances. It is difficult to identify them, as they move so quickly and seem to like flitting in and out of the new green leaves. I counted five male red-breasted grosbeaks here at the same time. Their mates are here, too, and not too distinctive with their drab coloring. For a few days an indigo bunting was here.

News from the Town Office: The Board of Selectmen meets on the first and third Monday of each month. The Planning Board meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Their agendas are posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings, you may call the office at 824-3123. All meetings at the town Office are open to the public.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is definitely late spring and many things are happening; outside events and indoor happenings. It is exciting.

Because I have not been at the transfer station I get to see what happens at home. There are a lot more folks dropping by than I ever imagined. Maybe it's the weather, but I think people are just out and about more. Any complaints about the transfer station call or e-mail Whizzer Wheeler. More on that next week.

Friday, May 26, at 7:30 p.m. The Half Moon Jug Band will perform a benefit concert for the Brick Church. Tickets are $7/$10 and can be purchased at the door. FMI: call the band at 650-7867 or Roberta Chandler at the Arts Center, 925-2752.

In South Paris this weekend — Saturday, Sunday and Monday — my favorite, the Lilac Festival, takes place (9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at McLaughlin Foundation Garden, 97 Main Street, South Paris. A $3 donation is requested. The gift shop and café will be open. FMI: 743-8820.

In Bethel on Saturday, the Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will take place 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Bethel Historical Society's Moses Mason House. This will highlight the 40th anniversary of the Historical Society's founding.

Saturday, June 3 is an event we all wait for, the Bethel Library Association Perennial Plant Sale. The sale is from 9 to 10 a.m. It is on the lawn next to the library — rain or shine. It is fast moving and big. I have gotten many plants there over the years. Unfortunately for me, I had to leave most of them behind when I moved to Waterford. Now I can replace them.

Also on Saturday, June 3, from 6 to 8 p.m. the Fare Share Market Coop will hold their Spring General Membership Meeting. A potluck supper will be held at 5:30 p.m. before the meeting. Bring a dish to share and your own table settings. Drinks will be available. FMI: 743-9044.

Next time you see him, David will be sporting a sling. He was scheduled to go in Tuesday (May 23) for rotator cup surgery. He will be incapacitated for a month or more. Come visit him — he will not be driving much.

My printer ran out of ink this week. After a trip to "Wally World" they did not have the ink cartridge they claimed to have over the phone and it was more expensive than I was quoted. For $2 more I bought another printer. Go figure. Actually we have been telling people that for a few years. It just isn't right. It's not the fascist printer, but it does what I need it to.

Mountain Poets meets this Thursday, May 25, at 7 p.m. at Fare Share Commons. All poets and poetry lovers are invited. Come, bring a poem and bring a friend. The people are nice and welcome newcomers. FMI: Lisa at 743-9808.

That is all for now. Have a great week. May it be filled with sunshine. Enjoy Memorial Weekend.

CRITIQUING THE MOCK SEARCH—About two dozen members of the Oxford County Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) took part in a search-and-rescue training session Sunday at the Bog Brook Center in Gilead. Team members had previously completed a 20-hour basic disaster training course under the direction of the Oxford County Emergency Management Agency. With those skills, members can perform tasks during an emergency (such as the recent flooding in York County) that would free up first responders to concentrate on situations in which their higher level training is required. Oxford County CERT has been contacted by the Maine Emergency Management Agency to possibly volunteer time in the flood cleanup and recovery effort in York County. Here, members evaluate their performance following Sunday's mock search for a family missing in the woods near Bog Brook. The group could be called upon to help if a large-scale search was required. When a current basic 20-hour training course in Fryeburg concludes next month, the county team will number about 50. Anyone interested in future training courses may call 743-6336.

years, on the pond, Thursday. She was a good mother, too, because one little fellow was way behind and she stopped and they all waited while it caught up. Mostly they keep on swimming and it is up to the duckling to catch up, which isn't very easy unless they stop to eat because they swim fast and can keep ahead of the one trying to catch up. She regrouped them all and they swam quickly away in their formation. I suppose each duckling knows just where its place is in the group. These must have been a few days old because they don't separate when they are first born, but swim in a tight formation. I am sure that is to discourage predators from above but I don't know how much it helps from below, and I figure the biggest predators in these ponds are the snapping turtles.

We had a good time Mother's Day. We all went to the home of Lorene's brother in Sweden. We were invited to a cookout but, although the food was cooked out, we ate in. It was just too wet to stay outside, to say nothing of the black flies that are out in abundance these days. Those present besides the host and hostess, Greg and Fran Adams, were Laura Hutchins, Lorene and Ralph Mills, Eleanor Farrington, Lorraine Larson, Mat and Mandy Konkright, and Ricky McLean. Food always seems to taste better when it is grilled outside. I am glad there are people who really like computers but this one is a pain in the neck. No matter how I try to increase the font size it won't do it although it says it has. I want computers who do as I say not what "it" wants to. That is scary!

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

Jessie Hart has returned to work at the Veterans' Home after about with an eye infection. She was unable to work for about two weeks.

I had a nice Mother's Day, Rick came Saturday and Kellie and her family came Sunday. It was also granddaughter Sarah Lynch's birthday so we had lunch, cake and ice cream to celebrate. I cannot believe she is 28 years old.

Our flowering crabapple tree is blooming and looking beautiful. We always have rain after it blooms that take away the blossoms too soon. Also, the hummingbirds have returned. I always look forward to them each year. It seems it is always on Mother's Day.

It was interesting to see the top ten seniors who will be graduating from Telstar in June. I was surprised to see

From Roxbury ATV Riders

We met at the home of Mike Worthley on Friday, May 19. Both secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. There is over $4,600 in our 50/50 raffle. Some lucky person will be winning over $2,300 on Saturday, the 27th. The drawing will be held around 3 p.m. at the end of the Lee Hodgkins Memorial Poker Run.

The Lee Hodgkins Memorial Poker Run will be held on Saturday, May 27. Registration begins at 9 a.m. at the Roxbury ATV Riders Park and Ride on the Roxbury Notch Road. Entry fee is $5 per participant, and there will be hamburgers, hot dogs, chips, and soda on sale at the end of the ride. There will also be a Chinese Auction going on. A portion of the proceeds will go to the Kyle Hodgkins Education Fund along with all the proceeds raised from the Chinese Auction. Anyone wishing to participate, whether a member of the club or not, whether you have a wheeler or not, is more than welcome to join us for a day of fun and camaraderie.

There will be a club ride on Sunday, June 25. We will meet at the Roxbury Park and Ride at 9 a.m. and will travel to Madrid. Bring a lunch and riding gear, just in case.

Last week, we had a work party out back and on the Turk trail. Everyone did a great job. The trail looks great. Water bars were fixed, rocks removed and the rock rake worked great. Mike wanted to thank all those that helped out.

Victor, Mike, Richard, and Klaus installed a gate on the Chandler's land.

The Mine Notch Road is looking promising but we have nothing concrete at this time.

Trail closure signs were left up on the trail behind Roxbury Pond due to the amount of mud on the trail. IP said we could still use it this summer, but there is a lot of work to be done on it.

Sometime this summer or fall, the Snow Valley Sno-goers would like our help hauling some hay in to their trails.

We have ordered 12 ATV access signs. The Horseshoe Valley Road needs some of them.

Speed limit signs have been put up at the pond; still need to put up a few more.

We are still looking for scrap wood for sign backing. Victor says he has some.

The club voted to put a porta-potty at the Park and Ride for the summer. It was voted to spend up to $500 for this.

Bill Morse was voted onto the Board of Directors. Congratulations, Bill!

The state grants are being awarded this year based on trail mileage. We should be getting $5,000 this year, as we have over 50 miles of trails.

Artic Cat raffle tickets are still available. The drawing will be held at the next ATV Maine meeting on June 17. Tickets are $5 each and can be purchased from Mike and Wanda Worthley (545-2715). The club also bought six of the calendar raffles for the June giveaway.

The club is looking to establish itself as a 501(c)(3). We need to get this completed before July 1. If anyone knows of anyone that would be willing to do this for us, please call Mike Worthley at 545-2715.

The Mollycodd Day ride we were trying to plan fizzled. This is due to previous usage by jeeps and atv's who have not respected the land that they had ridden on in the past. Therefore, this company is stopping any usage of this land for now. They are in the process of establishing a recreational usage policy. They will get back to us when the policy has been decided.

Bill and Klaus went to Upton to help them with establishing a club up there. The turnout was small, but they weren't discouraged. They received a lot of information from our members to help them get going on their club.

Thank you to Don O'Leary, who donated $200 for the purchase of picnic tables for the Park and Ride. Two metal-leg tables were purchased and will be put at the Park and Ride.

On June 10, members of our club will plan to go to the Maine Conservation School. MCS will have a program involving around 40 children to learn about various outdoor opportunities. Several different entities will be represented. Gibby, Klaus, Matt, Dan and Dave have volunteered to go that day to demonstrate safety, the machine, fun to be had on an ATV and to give some rides.

We took a collection at our meeting for the Relay for Life, plus a donation from the club. Jason Young took it, as he was walking in it. Thank you members for contribution of $200.

Remember with the past weeks of rain trails are going to be muddy. Ride with care and respect the land you are riding on.

As you have read above, it is so important for recreational riders to respect landowners' rights when given permission to ride on their land. Clubs work hard to build a reputation of responsibility in maintaining trails and respecting landowners' rights. With so many changes in property ownership in recent years, it is important to establish a good rapport and reputation as a club. As you will see from the following incident, just how a few disrespectful riders can hurt it for all of us.

On Sunday, May 14, three or four four-wheelers came in on Red Hill area and hit Michele Gagnon's dog. They did not stop to see if the dog was okay, just yelled sorry and kept going. Thankfully, the dog will be okay. Michele has a sign out that tells you there are domestic animals and to please go slow. The dog has more right to be there than they did. Michele has allowed us to ride on her land and these people showed total disrespect to Michele, her animals, and the land we had permission for.

We are looking for who did this. If anyone has any information as to who this person or persons were on that day, please call Mike Worthley at 545-2715. Your identity will be kept confidential.

Speed limit and Access signs have been posted. Please adhere to these.

Anyone wishing to help set up for the Lee Hodgkins Memorial Poker Run for Saturday, May 27, should meet at Mike Worthley's between 5 and 6 p.m. on Friday, May 26. See you then.

Ride Safe and Tread Lightly.

From Maine Handicapped Skiing

Maine Handicapped Skiing, Maine's largest year-round adaptive recreation program serving adults and children with physical disabilities, has put together an exciting new program called Veterans/No Boundaries. The newest addition to Maine Handicapped Skiing's nationally recognized adaptive recreational programs, Veterans/No Boundaries provides recreational activities to any veteran with a physical disability who requires adaptive equipment or techniques to participate in sports.

Maine Handicapped Skiing's goal, through Veterans/No Boundaries, is to help any veteran with a physical disability to integrate back into their communities with new self-confidence, physical strength, and skills through participation in adaptive recreational activities.

The ultimate goal of Maine Handicapped Skiing is to introduce adaptive sports to veterans from the most recent worldwide conflicts who have recently completed their rehabilitation and are eager to participate in summer and winter adaptive sports.

This Sept. 8-10, veterans are invited to take part in Maine Handicapped Skiing's summer Veterans/No Boundaries program located at Pine Tree Camp, a fully accessible outdoor camp, in Rome, Maine. The summer program offers lessons in cycling, canoeing, kayaking, martial arts, and fishing — all free of charge. Participants (and their significant others) stay in rustic camp cabins, all accessible. Meals, sports activities and equipment are provided by Maine Handicapped Skiing. Veterans are asked to provide their own transportation to the camp.

Maine Handicapped Skiing's first winter Veterans/No Boundaries program was held at Sunday River Ski Resort and Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center on Feb. 5, 6, 7, and 8, 2006. Sixteen veterans downhill and cross-country skied, snowboarded, and snowshoed all free of charge. Meals and lodging were provided by Maine Handicapped Skiing, thanks to the generous support of local businesses, individuals and many American Legion Posts throughout Maine.

Veterans/No Boundaries is coordinated by a volunteer planning committee that includes numerous veterans, local business people and Maine Handicapped Skiing staff. Several veterans serving on the committee are currently participating and/or volunteers at Maine Handicapped Skiing in winter and summer sports activities.

To learn more about Maine Handicapped Skiing's summer and winter Veterans/No Boundaries programs, please e-mail Judy Sullivan at jsullivan@skimhs.org or Wendy Iseman at wiseman@skimhs.org, or call (800) 639-7770. The September program registration closes Aug. 18.

From Sustainable Western Maine

The sustainable resource books that were in the upstairs of the Bethel Library have been removed temporarily. We'll return them to the library as soon as the upstairs reopens, but in the meantime, there is a similar sustainable resource area in the Paris Library, so please feel free to browse the books there.

There are current periodicals and many books are circa 1975 when the oil crisis had inspired a lot of good technical and how-to writing about alternative energy and energy efficient design.

These books withstand the test of time and are often very user friendly to the beginner. If anyone would like to enhance this collection by lending any of their sustainable resource books to our local libraries, please either drop them off at the Paris Library or wait until our new computer/reference area is up and running. You can retrieve books you've loaned at any time. Thank you for your support. FMI: 824-2555.

DBA: Mountain Greenery

Leslie Kavanagh and Sally Sawyer are celebrating 20 years as "Mountain Greenery" on Route 2 in West Bethel. They bought their original greenhouse from Groan and McGurn in 1986 and have since expanded to fill four greenhouses. Mountain Greenery is filled with unique hanging baskets, custom-designed planters and window boxes, perennials, herbs, vegetables, shrubs and flowering trees. They also have a fully stocked garden shop with a large selection of tools, planters, soils and fertilizers (836-3003).

Preservation Commission and the State Historian, will be the featured speaker at the first of the 2006 series of lectures celebrating the 40th anniversary of the society's founding in 1966 and made possible in part from a grant from the Maine Humanities Council.

A frequent lecturer and prolific writer on the Maine past, Shettleworth will speak at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, June 1, on the topic, "Silent Sentinels: Maine's Civil War Monuments." The lecture is free and open to all interested persons.

Bethel's Civil War monument was dedicated in 1908. There are a number of them throughout the state, several of which have been moved to other sites within their respective towns. Only Brownfield's monument portrays a specific soldier of the war. This and much more will be discussed in what should be a fine sequel to the society's earlier winter/spring course on "Maine and the Civil War."

Faye Taylor Art Show
All entries on the theme, "The Old Historic House," for the 27th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show should be at the Bethel Historical Society's Dr. Moses Mason House by 3 p.m. Friday, May 26 for consideration and hanging. The show will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 27, at the Dr. Mason House Meeting Room. Everyone is welcome. There will be prizes for the top three in three divisions.

St. Never's Day Sale
The annual St. Never's Day sale will be held at Stan Howe's, 18 Broad Street, on May 27 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a tent on the lawn at the corner of Broad and Mason streets. Those wishing to join the sale with their "goodies" are invited to rent a 72-inch by 30-inch table for $20. There will also be a wide range of "treasures" on Stan Howe's side porch and in his driveway. Anyone having good serviceable items to donate (no clothing or electronic and computer equipment, please) are invited to leave them on the back porch of the society's Robinson House at 10 Broad Street or on Stan Howe's side porch at 18 Broad Street. To arrange for a table rental or pickup of items, please call the office at 824-2908.

With nearly 1,400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

CURRENT PRICE IS NOT EVERYTHING
 One of the most important elements in the value of property obviously is location. Wise investment philosophy takes you a step further. A better buy would be an investment in a sound property in a more modest area that will increase in value in the future. Buying into an area that is being gentrified, or that is otherwise coming back, is one way to do this.
 Timing is everything, however! Most investors don't want to risk too much by being a pioneer, but want to get involved early enough so that there is still considerable room for value in appreciation. Being a pioneer is fine if you are a gambler possessed with lots of patience and cash is not the primary issue; otherwise, it is safer to buy into an area after the restoration trend is unmistakably established.

Neighborhoods that are ripe with restoration have some common characteristics. They are next to a prestigious area in a good walk-to-work location and have houses that are basically in good condition or "fixer-uppers" with realistic price tags.
